e. Reading Improvement

(1) The OCR Scanning Techniques Course began on Monday, 13 August, with 6 students enrolled. These students are supervisors and section chiefs from OCR.

(2) Nine students completed Reading Improvement Course #30 on Friday, 10 August.

f. Intelligence Training

Intelligence Techniques Course #1 is now in its third week. To date the course has gone very well, and the students have shown great interest and have turned in a high standard of performance.

g. Management Training

Basic Supervision #22, an extra presentation of the course, ended on Friday, 10 August. This was the run of Basic Supervision geared particularly for the senior analyst or technician with responsibility for substantive as well as supervisory duties. Three of the 16 members were outside of DDI—one from FE/PP, one from Security, one from Commo—and the rest represented the DDI Offices as follows: 3 from OCI, 2 from OSI, 3 from CRR, 3 from OO/FDD, 2 from OCR. OSI agreed with our recommendation that one man from OSI who was able to attend only 2 days during the first week drop the course and return another time.

h. Administrative Training

25X1 (1) A request for special cable training for senior PP Staff secretaries was received by phone from Mr. [REDACTED]. We suggested to him that half of the people could audit the cable coverage in the 25X1 Administrative Procedures beginning 10 September and a special session of about four hours could be set up for the remainder.

25X1 (2) Mr. [REDACTED] the Training Officer of OSI, requested that we brief Mr. [REDACTED] on the instruction given on cables and dispatches. This opens the possibility of running special cable and dispatch sessions for the DDI.

i. Intelligence Orientation

25X1 (1) The Director of Training approved a proposal to invite selected individuals from various IAC agencies to view the Intelligence Products Exhibit. Mr. [REDACTED] has undertaken the necessary preliminary coordination within OTR and with DDI Offices.
